

When leading a team of social workers, what can you do to meet your team's expectations and help them grow in their career?

Understand individual needs and preferred approaches

Focus on positives as well as negatives when providing task feedback

Include time to check on the health, wellbeing, and the professional development of the social worker